

Your Assets Deserve Clarity

Struggling to maintain a clear picture of your organization's Digital Assets?

Did you know the average employee has three hardware devices and seven software licenses? Managing and optimizing all of your organization's hardware, software, data, networks, and digital resources (and keeping them safe and secure) has become increasingly complex. There is an opportunity for you to simplify all of this and save money. This is where Coreio can help.

Asset Clarity is a solution tailored to address the complexities of managing assets effectively. By leveraging ServiceNow technology and incorporating self-service capabilities, Asset Clarity streamlines asset management processes while ensuring accuracy and security.

The Benefits

Cost Optimization

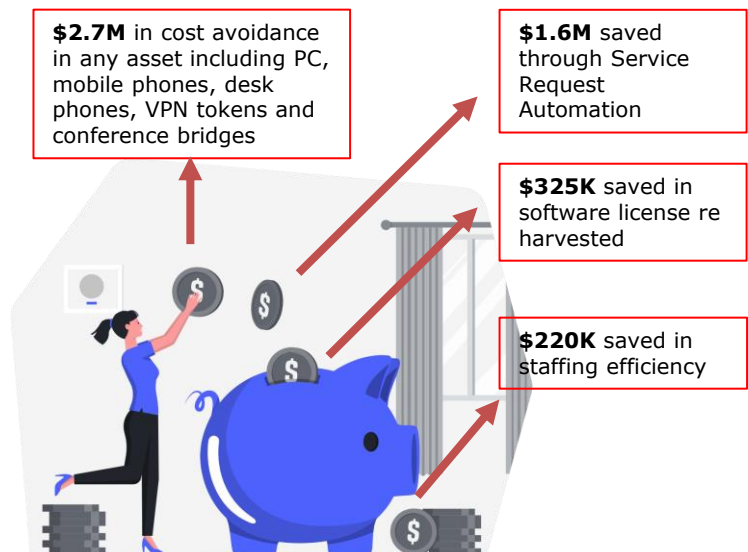

Identify and eliminate underutilized assets, prevent over-licensing, and optimize resource allocation.

Enhanced Security

Ensure IT Assets remain secure and free from vulnerabilities. This prevents data breaches, unauthorized access and potential cyber risks

Compliance Assurance
